SECOND CHOICE FIGHT DWINDLES

Wilson Favors Renomination of Marshall.

BAKER DISPOSES OF BOOMS

Secretary of War Arrives in St. Louis and Asserts President Desires Indiana Man as Running Mate on the Democratic Ticket.

St. Louis, June 14.—Arrival here of Secretary Newton D. Baker, President Wilson's personal representative, bearing the "president's own" draft of the platform and news that he desires renomination of Vice President Marshall, firmly established the harmony program for the Democratic national convention.

Vice presidential booms and booms, around which most of the pre-convention fights have centered, wilted away under influence of the personal message from the White House, that the president desires Mr. Marshall again as his running mate.

Secretary Baker also effectually disposed of the vice presidential boom in his own behalf.

"The president is for the renomination of Vice President Marshall," was the emphatic statement from Secretary Baker. "I am for Mr. Marshall."

It was disclosed by administration leaders that Mr. Wilson has no faith in the efficacy of a plank criticizing the nomination of a supreme court justice by the Republicans.

He is of the opinion that he and his associates should emphasize broader issues.

The "sham" battle over the vice presidency was brought to an end for the reason that it was exciting animosities that it was feared might have a bad influence in the forthcoming campaign.

The Democratic plank on the tariff will endorse the pending bill in congress proposing the creation of a tariff commission and the enactment of an "anti-dumping" clause that will safeguard the interests of American industry.

BRYAN TO POSTPONE DRY PLANK BATTLE

St. Louis, June 14.—William J. Bryan announced definitely that he will not urge a prohibition plank before the resolutions committee and added that he believes this year is not the time for the party to touch on the subject.

Mr. Bryan said he does not expect to speak before the convention, but will do so if invited. He announced his intention of making Democratic speeches all through the campaign.

"What will be the theme?" he was asked.

"I don't know," said Mr. Bryan meditatively, "I guess the open season for Progressives would be a good topic."

Mr. Bryan was asked by friends what he thought of Colonel Roosevelt's provisional declaration to accept the Progressive nomination.

"I think," he said, "it can best be compared to the reply of the maid who told the ardent swain the best she could do would be to be a sister to him."

DEMOCRATIC PLANK SUITS SUFFRAGISTS

St. Louis, June 14.—Suffragist leaders received for approval a tentative draft of a suffrage plank for the Democratic platform drawn by Secretary Daniels and other leading Democrats.

The plank declares unequivocally for the passage by congress of a suffrage amendment to the Constitution. Leaders of the woman's party immediately approved the form of the plank.

SCHAFER OUT FOR HUGHES

Progressive Leader Urges Roosevelt to Support Nominee.

Chicago, June 13.—John C. Schaffer, owner of several daily newspapers and one of the Progressive party leaders in the Middle West, sent a telegram to Colonel Roosevelt urging him to support Charles E. Hughes for president. He also asked him to decline the presidential nomination of the Progressive party.

ORATORY TO FEATURE WILSON CAMPAIGN

St. Louis, June 14.—Spellbinding will be the principal feature of the campaign planned in behalf of President Wilson.

Vice President Marshall, Secretary Baker, Secretary Lane and Senator James of Kentucky, scheduled to be permanent convention chairman, and Representative Claude Kitchin of North Carolina, Democratic leader of the house, will be the orators most relied upon.

Other prominent campaigners, it is expected, will be Senators Lewis, Hollis, Reed and Owen, with an array of others from both senate and house.

The president has not decided on the part he will play in the campaign, according to Secretary Baker.

HUGHES EMPHATIC FOR AMERICANISM.

New York, June 14.—Charles E. Hughes, in response to questions put to him by newspaper men in regard to his attitude toward the support offered him by the German-Americans, said it was "one of undiluted Americanism."

"I stated my position very clearly," said the Republican presidential nominee, "in my telegram to the convention. My attitude is one of undiluted Americanism and anybody that supports me is supporting an out and out American and absolutely nothing else."

LONDON HONORS KITCHENER

Royalty Attends Services in St. Paul's Cathedral.

London, June 14.—The late Earl Kitchener, Great Britain's premier soldier, lost when the cruiser Hampshire was mined near the Orkney islands, was paid a tribute as great as England has ever given to her departed heroes.

The service was in St. Paul's cathedral. The king and queen, persons attached to the royal house, many peers, soldiers and statesmen attended, jamming the mighty cathedral to the doors, while thousands stood outside in the rain with heads bared.

SAMUEL GOMPERS ON HAND

Prepared to Make Demands on Democratic Convention.

St. Louis, June 14.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is here prepared to make demands on the resolutions committee similar to those he made upon the Republican committee in Chicago.

The Republican platform gives labor the promise of a stringent child labor law, "safety first" legislation and extension of the bureau of mines.

This was only a small part of what labor asked.

LOAN TO RUSSIA CLOSED

New York Financiers to Provide $50,000,000.

New York, June 14.—Official announcement was made by the National City bank of the closing of a loan of $50,000,000 to the Russian government by a banking group consisting of the National City bank, the Guaranty Trust company, J. P. Morgan & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co. and Lee, Higginson & Co.

DEMONSTRATION FOR WILSON LASTED OVER SIXTEEN MINUTES

Government Ownership of Railroads, Telegraph, Telephone and Coal Lands Argued by Walsh

President Wilson Marches on Foot in the Preparedness Parade on Pennsylvania Avenue

Wild Pandemonium
Sixteen Minutes

(By United Press)

St. Louis, June 14.—The democratic national convention was called to order at 12:31. Glynn and Hills spoke and when President Wilson's name was mentioned a demonstration started that lasted 16 minutes with the wildest pandemonium despite the fact that New Jersey started the parade with their standard and Illinois followed. The weather is terrifically hot. Even Bryan joined in energetic demonstration for Wilson.

Refute Statement

(By United Press)

Waukegan, June 14.—States Attorney Ralph Daddy plans to take the witness stand and refute the statement made by Josephine Davis that Marlon Lambert planned suicide.

Women Staged
Silent Plea

(By United Press)

St. Louis, June 14.—Two thousand and more persons have assembled here and will waste the time of the next three days in speaking and listening to speeches before doing the pre-arranged nominating. The democratic national convention was called to order and started toward the nomination of Wilson and Marshall, the democrats using flag day for frenzied patriotism. 15,000 flags were distributed and taken to the coliseum where the bands were playing the Star Spangled Banner when a huge flag hung from the ceiling unfurled, and the crowds sprang to their feet waving their flags in an outburst of frenzied patriotism. The women staged a silent plea for suffrage by lining the approaches to the convention hall.

Wilson Marches
Parade on Foot

(By United Press)

Washington, June 14.—For the first time in the history of the country the president of the United States marched on foot through historic Pennsylvania avenue, a participant in the propaganda parade, and was the event of the day. As President Wilson turned the corner a huge banner dropped in front of him reading "Be prepared if you care about our electoral votes, consider the United States woman's party." The young women employees of the government were pleasingly uniformly dressed, the order of the Bureau of Engraving employing a thousand girls did not follow. Only uniforms with American flag and parasol were allowed in the parade.

Welsh Argues for Wealth Adjustment

(By United Press)

St. Louis, June 14.—Government ownership of railways, telegraph and telephone, as well as coal deposits, was argued in Frank Walsh's report to the resolutions committee. Samuel Gompers argued for government ownership, and Walsh argued for the adjustment of wealth by the recovery of public lands secured by fraud, declaring two per cent of the people own 65 per cent of the wealth.

Republican Nominee for Vice-President and Wife

Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks

Roosevelt Is Ill
Said Not Serious

(By United Press)

New York, June 14.—While going to the dock to meet his son Kermit and family who are returning from Panama, Theodore Roosevelt suffered a severe pain in the side and pressed his hand frequently to the spot. He said the pain was not serious but he seemed quite ill. His daughter said he had probably strained the muscles while coughing.

Time to Cast Vote

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 14.—Attorney General Smith has rendered an opinion that all employers must give their employees time to vote.

Will Strive to Get Progressive Votes

(By United Press)

New York, June 14.—The "Old Guard" is due for a jolt if it is the expectation to manage Hughes' campaign in the old fashioned "sue ourselves" way. Mr. Hughes will insist upon directing the major part of his campaign and will strive to get the progressive votes, which will not give the progressives an opportunity of shying as might otherwise happen.

Still Want to Adopt
Fatherless Party

(By United Press)

St. Louis, June 14.—The young and progressive democrats began getting together early and made it perfectly clear that the democratic platform will contain a strong bid for the fatherless progressives—or fight.

If Need More Troops
Call State Militia

(By United Press)

Washington, June 14.—A member of the army general staff stated candidly that if the border needs more troops that the state militia will be called out as well as thousands of the coast artillery corps. There are only 1,500 available regulars and 500 stationed in Alaska, who are not on the border.

ROOSEVELT CONFERS
WITH MOOSE CHIEFS

New York, June 14.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt had a conference here with George W. Perkins, Governor Hiram Johnson, Oscar Strauss and Chester H. Rowell of California to discuss the future course of the Progressive party.

His tentative refusal of the presidential nomination and the advisability of having some one named in his stead as a candidate by the national executive committee of the party were considered.

Mr. Roosevelt would not talk for publication on what took place at the conference, but Mr. Perkins issued the following statement:

"All members of the Progressive party and its organization should remember that at the close of the Progressive convention in Chicago a meeting of the national committee was called to be held in Chicago June 26. This will be after the Democratic convention at St. Louis and the result of that convention will be known."

"Sufficient time will have elapsed after the Progressive, Republican and Democratic conventions to allow our committeemen in each of the states to learn in a general way the public sentiment of each state. No action should be taken by individual Progressives or by the various organizations until the action of the national committee has been made public."

BRITISH RETAKE
LOST POSITIONS

Canadian Troops Advance on 1,500-Yard Front.

RUSSIANS MAKING HEADWAY

Austrians Losing Ground in Volhynia and Galicia, the Muscovites Capturing Additional Prisoners and War Material.

London, June 14.—Canadian troops, in what the British official statement declares as a "brilliant and successful attack," southeast of Zillebeke, recaptured a former British position over a front of more than 1,500 yards.

Notwithstanding a severe shelling the Canadians retain the ground gained and the front is being consolidated. The text of the statement reads:

"At 1:30 a. m. the Canadian troops made a gallant and successful assault southeast of Zillebeke. Their objective was our old position in that neighborhood, all of which was captured on the front attacked, extending from the southern portion of Sanctuary wood to a point about 1,000 yards north of Hill No. 60—a total front of over 1,500 yards."

"Heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy and three officers and 123 men were taken prisoners."

"Our troops were subjected to a severe shelling for several hours after gaining the position."

"The official statement issued in Berlin says of this action: 'Local British attacks against a section of our new positions on the heights southeast of Ypres have been in progress since morning.'"

Russian Advance Continues.

In Volhynia and Galicia, Russians are continuing their strong offensive against Austro-Hungarians and Germans and on various sectors in both regions they have made fresh advances and captured additional prisoners and war stores."

In Galicia the drive has brought the Russians across the Dniester river, where they have captured the towns of Zale, Szczyky and Horodenka. They are pressing forward toward the Pruth river and the Bukovina frontier, with Czernowitz their objective."

Numerous Austrian fortified positions in this region have fallen into the hands of Russians."

Violent fighting is taking place around Tarnopol, where Austro-Hungarians, reinforced by Germans, are holding back the attempts of Russians to advance in the direction of Lemberg, capital of Galicia."

Northeast of Tarnopol, near Vorobievka, positions have changed hands repeatedly in the heavy fighting, while east of Kozlo, which lies southwest of Tarnopol, the capture of a Russian advanced post is reported by Vienna."

NO DIVIDED ALLEGIANCE

President Wilson Makes Address at West Point.

West Point, N. Y., June 14.—President Wilson, making his first address since the presidential campaign began, discussed preparedness, militarism, Americanism, the causes of the war in Europe, peace, the Monroe doctrine, divided allegiance and the ideals of America.

He declared it is the present imperative duty of the United States to be prepared, adding, "Mankind is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says."

"The United States is not a nation with a chip on its shoulder, but a calm nation, which will withhold its hand as long as possible, and strike only for victory."

"Nobody who does not put America first can be tolerated."

SEVERAL PERISH IN
EXPLOSION AND FIRE

Baltimore, June 14.—A Pennsylvania railroad elevator on the harbor front at Canton, a suburb, was burned with a loss of life conservatively estimated at from four to ten men and injuries to more than forty others. Most of the victims were elevator employees and cargo trimmers. Three of the injured are in a critical condition.

Two steamships, the William Van Driel, Sr., a Dutch vessel, and the British steamer Welbeck Hall, which were loading grain at the elevator, also were badly damaged by fire and debris from the elevator. The flames spread to an ore pier next to the elevator, badly damaging it. Several strings of cars in the elevator were burned.

While the fire is thought to have been caused by an explosion of grain dust a theory was advanced that it may have been caused by a bomb.

When folded the outfit presents a neat appearance and is compact.
When set up all that is needed for the most fastidious camper is there.
The beds and tables are a part of the permanent arrangement and all together the equipment is such that a person with a great deal of comfort could travel during the summer and fall months. The tent can be viewed at the garage of C. A. Olson, Norwood street.

A Suggestion

A suggestion to auto owners and drivers which is sure to meet with favorable reception is that while passing the churches on Sundays that as little noise as possible be made.
The number of cars owned in the city of Brainerd is growing in steady paces. There is a constant procession passing the churches during their hours of service. When mufflers are open and horns are clanging the quietness of the church goes is disturbed unduly.

That the disturbance is caused unwittingly makes the disturbance none the less real. Children in the Sabbath schools are even more distracted by the raucous voice of the auto than the grown ups in the church service. If all drivers would follow out this suggestion they would confer an appreciable element of quietness and dignity to the church's observance.

Graveyard Marriages.

A strange custom prevails among a certain tribe in the Caucasus. When a single young man dies some one calls upon a bereaved parent who has carried to the grave a marriageable daughter in the course of a year and says: "Your son is sure to want a wife. I'll give you my daughter, and you shall deliver to me the marriage portion in return."
A friendly offer of this description is never rejected, and the two parties soon come to terms as to the amount of the dowry, which varies according to the advantages possessed by the girl in her lifetime. Cases have been known where the young man's father has given as many as thirty cows to secure a dead wife for his dead son.

Minneapolis, June 14.—Lieutenant Colonel William Gerlach, oldest soldier in the United States army, a
"regular" for more than sixty years, is dead at his home here. He was eighty years old.

The soldier of the old frontier, veteran of the Seminole war, the western Indian wars and every American conflict since, had dared death in every conceivable form. In Indian skirmishes, in battle, in fever swamps of Florida, in early day prairie skirmishes, he had come through unscathed. But heart failure won where bullets and the elements had failed.

However, the oft expressed hope of his younger days was realized. He died "with his boots on." Stricken while standing in a room in his home taking a dose of medicine he fell to the floor, the bottle in one hand and the spoon in the other, and was dead before members of his family reached his side.

WOMAN'S REALM

S. S. CONVENTION OPENED YESTERDAY

The Sessions are Held in the Norwegian Lutheran Church on Seventh Street South

INCREASE IN COUNTY NOTED

There are 3,524 Sunday School Members in Crow Wing County—Finances in Good Condition

The County Sunday School convention opened Tuesday afternoon with devotional exercises led by Rev. A. B. Colvin, of the Swedish Baptist church. The president of the association is Dr. Joseph Nicholson, and its secretary, Miss Louise Anderson. The sessions are being held in the Norwegian Lutheran church on Seventh street and all sessions are open to the public. There are a number of delegates from the county and it is expected that the smaller towns of the county will be represented.

A very complete program has been prepared and one that deals with the great and fundamental needs of the Sunday schools both in town and country community.

Among the out of town speakers are Mr. A. M. Locker, of St. Paul; Mrs. C. M. Parmelee, of Minneapolis, who is elementary superintendent of Hennepin county; Miss Maud Hage, of Minneapolis; A. W. Van Dervort, Minneapolis, secondary superintendent; and Mark G. Holtzman, adult superintendent for the state and general superintendent Hennepin county.

At 6:30 a luncheon was served to the elementary workers at the Methodist church. Miss Maud Hage acted as toastmistress and a number of toasts were responded to by the different departmental workers.

In the evening the report of the secretary, Miss Louise Anderson, was read. She reported that there was a total of three thousand five hundred twenty four Sunday school members in Crow Wing county. This being an increase over last year. Mr. G. A. Beale reported also that the finances of the Association were in excellent condition.

Dr. Nicholson presented Miss Maud Hage to the convention as the one who had placed cradle rolls in every Sunday school in the county thereby establishing a record. Miss Hage, though living in Minneapolis, yet has continued her interest in Crow Wing county work.

Mrs. C. M. Parmelee spoke on "The Little Ones" and A. M. Locker on "Evangelism in Our Elementary Grades." He emphasized the necessity of decision day, however a decision day that was continuous rather than limited to one particular time. Mrs. Parmelee said the little children were apostles sent to teach us and that their capacity for understanding spiritual truths was great. Morris Folsom gave a piano solo and Miss Anna Michaelson sang.

The Ladies' Aid of the Norwegian Lutheran church, are making extensive preparations for the banquet they are to serve tonight to the Adult division of the S. S. convention. The basement of the church has been recently improved and presents an attractive place for a banquet. The menu consists among other things of Norwegian meat balls, mashed potatoes, beans, peas, pickles, coffee, cake and ice cream. The charge for the supper will be thirty-five cents and a general invitation is extended to all who are interested in county Sunday school work to be present.

H. F. Michael will serve as toastmaster, and toasts will be responded to by different ones present.

Tonight immediately following the banquet the regular session of the convention will be taken up at which time A. M. Van Dervort, of Minneapolis, will speak on the subject "Fishing for Boys," and Mark G. Holtzman of Minneapolis, will speak on "Fishing for Men." Miss Anna Michaelson will sing a solo.

This morning's sessions were interesting and tonight the climax is expected to be reached. Tomorrow the older boys and girls conference is the order and this promises to be a splendid affair for the younger folks.

Population Increases

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Broadhead, 413 Farrar street, are the proud parents of twin girls, born Tuesday afternoon.

On Saturday last a son was born to Mrs. Adam Wunderlich.

Mr. and Mrs. James VanHorn are the parents of a baby boy, born June 10th.

Pre-Nuptial Party

A very charming shower party was given to Miss Olive Lagerquist, daughter of A. G. Lagerquist, Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. K. W. Lagerquist. Miss Lagerquist is to be married next week. The shower was in charge of Mrs. K. W. Lagerquist and Mrs. H. A. Webber, a sister of the bride, from Fresno, California.

The home was very tastily arranged with decorations of flowers, ribbons and strings of red and white hearts. The table was ornamented with ribbons and plate cards and in the center was a bridal cake with a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

A clothes basket full of presents was given to the bride-to-be, and were all useful household necessities such as towels, dollies, table cloths, napkins. There were twenty-two guests.

Miss Mabel Rosenberg played a piano solo. Miss Agnes Sundeen, and Miss Anna Carlson sang. A flower game was an attractive feature of the evening. This consisted in guessing the names of certain flowers from questions which were given. Miss Agnes Swanson was awarded first prize for guessing the largest number.

At the conclusion of the program and games refreshments were served by the hostesses. All the young ladies expressed appreciation for this charming pre nuptial party.

J. C. Congdon Circle

There will be a regular meeting of J. C. Congdon Circle, No. 89, at the Elks hall on Thursday, June 15, at 2:30 o'clock sharp. All members are requested to be present to hear the delegates report from the convention. She has a surprise in store for the Circle.

Senator Egan to Marry Eleanor Walsh, Daughter of Late Congressman

New York, June 14—The marriage of Senator Charles M. Egan of Jersey City and Miss Eleanor Walsh, Brooklyn, will be celebrated here today. Miss Walsh is the daughter of the late Congressman James J. Walsh, who served as assistant district attorney of New York under District Attorney Phillips. Her father was prominent in Tammany Hall, and for years was district leader in Harlem.

How the Women Finance Campaign

St. Louis, June 14—It was learned here today how the National Women's party leaders are financing their St. Louis campaign with silvery-tongued words and golden smiles. Its a secret, Mrs. Abby Scott Baker told, as she really, truly shouldn't tell and her sister suffragists would be awful mad if they found out. Mrs. Baker and the others came on down from Chicago to impress the others that they control 4,000,000 votes in the U. S. But they did not have any headquarters and they did not have much of anything else except themselves and inclination.

So they caucused and finally found a way. Mobilizing their forces they formed them into two divisions each, starting, the point of attack being the Jefferson hotel management and the democratic national committee. Mrs. Baker led one smiling column, Sarah Bard Field the other. And that's all. They were armed with smiles and sweet words. After making themselves agreeable in a diplomatic way to the "enemy," the committee very delicately suggested their predicament. The committee and management capitulated.

Anhorn-Waffle

This morning at 9 o'clock at the Methodist church occurred a very pretty wedding when Bernard Killian Anhorn and Miss Mable E. Waffle were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. F. W. Hill pastor of the Brainerd Methodist church.

Lohengrin's wedding march was played as the wedding party entered the church and approached the altar which was beautifully decorated with flowering plants and trailing vines. While the vows were taken the beautiful strains of "A Perfect Day" were played.

Miss Merle W. Ford and George T. Ford, cousins of the bride acted as bridesmaid and best man.

The bride was attired in a beautiful wedding gown of white satin charmeuse with gold bead trimmings. The bridal bouquet was white roses. The bridesmaid was attired in blue silk poplin with white Georgette crepe accessories.

The bride is one of Brainerd's popular young ladies being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waffle. The groom is a promising young business man connected with the Owatonna Wholesale company of Owatonna. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anhorn.

The home of the bride where a 12 o'clock wedding banquet was served was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being green and white.

After a short wedding trip this young couple will be at home after June 20th in Owatonna, Minn.

Heartiest congratulations and best wishes of their many friends go with them.

Methodist Church Notes

Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock I. W. Norton of Minneapolis will speak at the Methodist church in the interests of the Anti Saloon League. Sabbath school at 12 o'clock. Epworth league at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the Independent Order of Odd Fellows with their sister society, the Rebeccas, will be guests of the evening. The pastor, Rev. F. W. Hill, will deliver a memorial sermon in their honor on the theme "Friendship."

Ice Cream Social

This evening, if the weather permits, the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will serve ice cream and cake on the parsonage lawn during the band concert.

Three Cornered Health Insurance

(By United Press)

Washington, June 14—Twenty-five of every 1,000 employees in American industries are constantly incapacitated by sickness. The average worker loses about nine days a year on that account. Much of this loss is preventable waste. The waste can be reduced by a system of governmental health insurance. These are the conclusions reached today by the public health service, after an investigation of working conditions in the United States. This is what the service says about health insurance:

"Any system of health insurance for the United States or for any state should have at its inception prevention of sickness as one of its fundamental purposes. This country should profit by the experience of European countries where prevention is being recognized as the central idea necessary to health insurance if health insurance is to attain its greatest success in improving the health and efficiency of the industrial population.

The system in this country ought to provide these things:

"1. Cash benefits and medical service for all wage earners in times of sickness at much less cost than now is possible. Adequate medical relief thus would be placed within the reach of even the lowest paid workers, who are most subject to ill health.

"2. Distribute the cost among employers, employee and the public as the groups responsible for disease-causing conditions; and afford these groups a definite financial incentive for removing these conditions. This can be done by means of small weekly payments from employers, supplemented by proportionate contributions from employers and government at a rate reducible in proportion to the reduction of sickness.

"3. Link the co-operative efforts of the three responsible groups with the work of national, state and local health agencies, and utilize these agencies in the administration of the health insurance system.

"4. Afford a better basis for the co-operation of the medical profession with public health agencies.

"5. Eliminate the elements of paternalism and charity-giving by making employers and the public, as well as the employers, joint agents in the control of this fund. A governmental system of health insurance," the statement concludes, "can be adopted to American conditions and, when adapted, will prove to be a health measure of extraordinary value."

More Coming.

FLAG DAY, JUNE 14.

"O'er the land of the free
And the home of the brave."

Gov. Burnquist does not seem to be worrying any over the outcome of his candidacy for the republican nomination of governor.

The Minnesota Sons of Veterans are now commanded by a newspaper man, Editor Benshoff, of the Detroit Record, having been elected to that position.

Buckman's candidacy for congress seems to be meeting with public approval if the comments of the press are to be relied upon, and usually the press is the best informed medium of political information.

If the democratic chairman had made arrangements for judges to be barred from any other public office before Justice Hughes was named by the republicans it would have been a case of "foresight being better than hindsight." As it is the move is simply a political one.

The Stars and Stripes, the greatest of all flags, should be loved by the people over whom it floats and protects. Rising generations should be taught to respect and love it as the emblem of liberty, truth and justice. This is flag day throughout the nation and its observance should be more general throughout the country.

Washington dispatches say that gasoline prices have reached the maximum and that they will rapidly become lower throughout the country, and as an evidence of good faith the gas men who are before the federal trade commission giving testimony on an investigation point to the reduction in price from 21 to 17½ cents in Kansas. Prices in Kansas don't help Minnesota consumers, but it is hoped that the "rapid lowering of prices" will reach this section soon.

The Anoka Union has just issued a Golden Anniversary number, in honor of its 50 years of usefulness. Its editor and publisher during all these years, Granville S. Pease, is certainly to be congratulated upon the excellence of his publication and the souvenir number was par excellence, nothing like it having been attempted by any newspaper in the northwest in the recollection of the writer. Everybody knows "Old Pease," and everybody loves and respects him, Anoka should be proud of the publisher and the newspaper he is giving them.

CONVENTION REVIEWED

C. A. Albright Tells the Dispatch of His Experiences at the National Convention

Mr. C. A. Albright in response to inquiry as to his trip to the republican national convention, stated to a representative of the Daily Dispatch, that he had had a very pleasant time and that the action of the republican convention seemed to please the majority of the republican party; that there was no possibility at any time during the convention of any of the favorite sons receiving the nomination, as none of them had the strength or seemed to be great enough to get the support of the other delegates.

When Theodore Roosevelt was nominated, the guests of the convention seemed to go wild with enthusiasm, and carried on a demonstration for forty-three minutes, notwithstanding the efforts of Chairman Harding to call the convention to order; but the demonstration failed to carry the delegates from calm deliberation, and it was a foregone conclusion that Justice Hughes was the logical man to receive the nomination. The politicians fought his nomination hard, as they knew that they would expect nothing from him in the way of recognition.

Root and Roosevelt were eliminated for the reason that they each represented a certain faction of the republican party and if this convention expected to nominate one that would unite the party, it could not choose either of them, and as none of the favorite sons appeared to be of presidential caliber, it left the only choice of the delegation as Hughes.

Roosevelt was nominated by the progressive party, which held their convention at the same time in Chicago only a short distance from the Coliseum, but he refused the nomination, which will leave the selection of their presidential candidate in the hands of their national committee.

From what I gathered after the convention adjourned, I think it is the plan to have Roosevelt request that the national committee of the progressive party name Justice Hughes as their candidate, and thus unite a divided republican party.

The holding of the two conventions in Chicago drew an immense crowd, and old residents told me that it was the greatest that they had had since the world's fair.

All of the hotels were crowded, many of them had three or four cots in their rooms, and some in the halls. The places of amusements were crowded, but the weather was cloudy and cold. It rained every day during the convention, and an overcoat felt comfortable.

The Minnesota delegation caucused for their national committee immediately after the election of their candidate for president and vice president as provided by law. All of the Minnesota delegation and alternates seemed to be anxious for the election of L. A. Caswell, clerk of the supreme court, as national committeeman, but at the last moment Mr. Caswell requested his friends to vote for Mr. Congdon of Duluth. That he did not care for the office, and that if we wished to please him that we would elect Mr. Congdon, giving as his reasons that he was a poor man, and that he could not really afford to give the time and money that the office necessarily required. Some of the delegates took exception to this, and Mr. George E. Hanscome of St. Cloud, the other delegate from this district, nominated Senator Knute Nelson. This made an embarrassing situation, as Mr. Hanscome did not know whether or not Senator Nelson wanted, or would accept the position if elected, and many of the delegates did not like to vote against the senior senator from Minnesota if they thought he wanted the office. The vote was finally taken and Mr. Congdon received a majority of the votes, and on motion of Mr. Hanscome, Senator Nelson's name was withdrawn and the election of Mr. Congdon made unanimous.

The delegation as a whole, were united in all they did, and a friendly spirit existed at all times, and they certainly were a lot of good fellows. The delegation voted for Senator Cummins for president for two ballots and then they were released by the Iowa delegation and requested to vote for someone else. They voted for Hughes on the third ballot, casting the full delegation, twenty-four votes, for Justice Hughes, and he was elected on this ballot.

Wildest Dreams of a Movie Hero

BY WILBUR S. FORREST

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, June 14.—Scads of thrills—enough to make the wildest dreams of a movie hero pale to insignificance—have been packed into the young life of Lieutenant Clifford Probert, aged 17. The full story came today from Blaenavon, Wales, Probert's native village. Daring deeds under fire, promotion from the ranks, awarded the D. S. O., wounded 22 times, blown up while on a hospital ship and lapse of memory are a few of the youthful soldier's experiences. Before the war young Probert operated a haulage engine in a coal mine and was the Assistant Chief Boy Scout of the district. In Sept., 1914, he joined the army by misrepresenting his age to a recruiting sergeant. He told the sergeant he was 18 when he was only fifteen. His parents objected to his militarism so he changed his name to William Gordon Williams. At Hill 60 in Northern France, the youthful soldier received his baptism of fire. He also went to the hospital for twelve weeks with two wounds in the head and two in the legs. Some time after he had rejoined his regiment, the Colonel, commanding, decided that a distant tower was being used as an enemy observation post. The colonel chose two men to cut the wires that connected the tower with enemy batteries. The men chosen were Lieutenant Murphy and Williams (Probert.) After crawling two hundred yards through darkness, in the direction of the tower, Murphy was shot through the head. Probert crawled forward and eventually arrived. He dug in the ground around the tower for an hour with his hands before he discovered the wires. There were seventeen, which meant that seventeen German batteries were being accurately informed of the accuracy of their fire on the British positions. Probert tried to snip the wires with his pocket knife. The metallic sound produced, however, made the operation dangerous and he searched his Red Cross packet for vaseline. Smearing the oil on the wires, he spent several hours in noiselessly cutting all seventeen and then crawled tediously back to the British trenches.

It was on September 25, the start of the big British offensive, that the young trooper again got into action. His regiment charged. A handfull reached the third line German trenches.

Probert was one of the handfull. A shell exploded nearby and threw him into the air. Dazed and suffering from shock he arose and charged again but came under the fire of a machine gun and fell with five bullet wounds in his abdomen, both hips riddled and his head badly battered. He lay in the open, without attention, for two days before stretcher bearers came along.

Probert hovered between life and death in a base hospital for weeks. Youth and vitality finally conquered until he had sufficiently recovered strength to be sent to England.

Subsequently, with other wounded men, he was taken to Boulogne and placed aboard the hospital ship Anglia. The Anglia was half way across the English channel enroute to Folkestone when she was mined. The explosion occurred just as a nurse was raising Probert's head to see the coast of England.

The nurse and an orderly carried Probert, cot and all, to the main deck and, telling him to hold on tight, slid into the sea. A rescuing destroyer picked him up before he had swallowed too much sea water. Eventually he arrived in an English hospital. Here he was awarded the medal of the Distinguished Service Order for gallantry and apprised of his promotion to a Lieutenant.

Weeks later Probert was well enough to be discharged from the hospital. But he had not gone long before something seemed to snap in his brain and wipe away his memory. The young officer finally was found in London, wandering. Someone recognized him from his photograph published in a London newspaper. It was not until he caught sight of familiar scenes in his native village that Probert regained his memory. He hopes to rejoin his regiment in another month.

"I want to get back into the scrap before it is all over," Probert is telling his townsmen up in Blaenavon, Wales.

UNITED STATES READY TO ACT

Troops Will Respond to Any Mexican Attacks.

FUTURE REMAINS UNCERTAIN

Washington Government is Contemplating No Aggressive Movements. Sharp Rejoinder is Being Prepared to Note From General Carranza.

Washington, June 14.—The United States is ready to act quickly in Mexico should attacks on American citizens or on General Pershing's army force the issue.

It was said positively in official circles that the United States is considering no aggressive action to be taken of its own motion, but will brook no attack.

No official would venture a prediction as to what might be expected in the immediate future.

In common with some consuls in Mexico they believe almost any eventuality is possible.

The state department received confirmation of the identification of one of the Mexicans killed in the Coleman ranch raid as Lieutenant Colonel Villereal of the Carranza army.

It is understood the development immediately was called to General Carranza's attention.

Dispatch of the reply to General Carranza's demand for withdrawal of American troops probably will be delayed until after the St. Louis convention because the administration desires to avoid any drastic step at a time when it might appear to be prompted by political influences.

A sharp rejoinder is being prepared to the Carranza note. It will repeat the determination of President Wilson to keep American troops in Mexico until the Carranza forces have shown their ability and intention to police properly the border states.

It is also to rebuke the de facto government for the suggestions in its note questioning the good faith of the Washington administration.

SENATORIAL CONTEST ONLY EXCITING FIGHT

St. Paul, June 14.—If Messrs. Kellogg, Clapp, Eberhart and Lindbergh had not started their little fuss over the republican nomination for United States senator the voters of the state might have allowed primary day next Monday to pass unnoticed.

It will be the quietest primary election ever held in Minnesota, according to political leaders of all parties.

The voters of Minnesota will nominate candidates on tickets for United States senator, governor and other state officers, associate justice of the supreme court, district judges, congressional candidates, members of the legislature and in some cases county officers.

On the Democratic side Daniel W. Lawler, former mayor of St. Paul, and Alfred J. Davis of Minneapolis ran after the nomination for United States senator.

The race for the gubernatorial nomination is the most apathetic known in the history of the state. Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, who succeeded to the office at the death of Governor Hammond, is opposed by Samuel G. Iverson, former state auditor, as the republican candidate.

Samuel D. Works, state insurance commissioner, who filed as the organization candidate for the Democratic nomination, has some opposition in Cyrus M. King, the anti-Lynch aspirant. Thomas P. Dwyer of Minneapolis, the boiler-maker, who surprised every one when he polled 10,000 votes for congress two years ago, is also after the nomination.

WOULD APPEAL TO MOOSERS

Bryan Urges Adoption of Progressive Platform.

St. Louis, June 14.—William J. Bryan, newspaper reporter from Nebraska, arrived here to "cover" the Democratic national convention. He asserted most emphatically that his reportorial role would be his first interest.

"Now is the opportune time for the Democratic party to get most of the Progressives," said Mr. Bryan in a hasty cross-the-corridor interview at his hotel.

"They are closest to us in sympathy, anyway, you know," Mr. Bryan added. He indicated that this might be largely accomplished by the writing of the Democratic platform with Progressive planks that would appeal to the Bull Moose.

Why Not Face the Facts About Armor Competition?

To the People:

The policy of the United States Government for many years has made real competition in armor-making ineffective.

The Government might have asked the three armor plants for bids and let the entire tonnage to the lowest bidder. That would have made competition effective.

The result of such a course would have been to drive two of the three manufacturers out of business, and leave the country with facilities of only one plant in time of need.

The Government in fact has always asked for bids from the three manufacturers, but no matter what the price quoted, each year's business was divided among them.

Armor makers serve but one customer—the Government, just as a public utility serves but one customer—a community.

The solution of the public utility problem is regulation of rates.

The solution of the armor problem is for the Government to fix the price.

We voluntarily agree to accept any price fixed by the Federal Trade Commission. Isn't acceptance of that offer better than the destruction of an industry built solely to serve the Government?

BOYS AND GIRLS LINING UP LOADS

Dandelion Day Has had Many Incidents that Have been Interesting in Connection with It

WAS A VERY GOOD SIGHT TO SEE

Every Method of Conveyance Used, and Boys and Girls Worked as Though Life Depended

Dandelion day is proving a great success. As early as 7 o'clock this morning the kids from all parts of the city were bringing in their loads of yellow flowers. Three hundred and fifty bushels at nine o'clock was the record.

It is a sight to see the boys and girls lining up with their loads. They are coming from every direction and doing this work with all the seriousness of men engaged in great tasks and it is a great task for should they accomplish the ridance of the dandelion pest they will be counted benefactors.

Every method of conveyance is in order, wheel barrows, sulkies, pony carts, arms, baby buggies and the like. It doesn't matter just so the load is got there. The rain of this morning did not dampen the ardor of the lads in the least, they were Johnny-on-the-spot just the same.

Carl Zapffe of the public affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is giving out the tickets, and Comrades Albert Fox and Jerry Glunt are the receiving tellers.

Ten cents a bushel is the price paid and the lads are having a bargain counter day for one boy informed the reporter that he could dig a bushel in five minutes.

The committee has provided for a thousand bushels. Besides giving the money the children are also given a ticket to the Empress theatre as an added inducement.

The idea of the day is an original one and Henry I. Cohen is given the credit for its origin. The idea is expected to spread so that there will be a like day observed in many cities troubled with the dandelion pest.

WORTH READING FOR GINGER IN WORDS

Brainerd Boy Writes Letter Urging Attendance at the Meetings of Sunday School Conference

"THE EFFICIENT CLASS"

Efficiency is the Wheel of Progress and Success—The Above Theme Ought to Attract

The following letter which speaks for itself was received by the Dispatch from one of the older boy workers of the county Sunday school convention. It is worth reading for the sake of the ginger that lies in the words, besides the object is good. Here it is:

Brainerd, Minnesota,
June 13, 1916.

Dear Friend:—

The third annual Crow Wing County Older Boys' conference will be held Thursday, June 15th, at the Bethlehem Lutheran church. Hold your breath while I mention one or two features of the biggest affair this year!

The conference theme is "The Efficient Class." In this day, with efficiency the wheel of progress and success, we are naturally attracted to a theme like the above. The able leader of this conference is A. W. Vandervort of Minneapolis, and he will tell us how we can make our classes efficient. He, if anyone, is surely equal to the task, for he is a live wire who has helped bring the Minneapolis Older Boys' council and summer camp to the front rank in "Do-things."

The afternoon will be well spent in baseball and other games, as well as competitive sports. Come! A chance for every fellow to take part. But the big affair of the day is the joint banquet with the Older Girls at 6:30. Lots of money is being raised, so that we get a big feed. Won't cost you anything except the ten cent registration fee. Mr. Vandervort will be on deck with the best speech you ever heard. "Pep" is the word! If you must miss the other meetings be sure to be on hand in the evening with a healthy appetite. Please remember this: Thursday morning, a snappy conference; in the afternoon, a healthy athletic program; in the evening, a big appetite and a big feed. Won't you come?

ONE OF THE BUNCH.

IS NOT MARRIED

C. R. Fields Informs the Dispatch that Some Friend has Put up an Embarrassing Job on Him

C. R. Fields called up the Dispatch this morning by phone and imparted the information that he had no wife and was not a married man, and that the item that appeared in the paper on Tuesday and which was copied from the Livingston, Montana, Enterprise, was a base fabrication and had been instigated by a "friend" who desired to play a joke on him. The Dispatch was entirely innocent of any such intention, having received the newspaper by mail together with a letter stating that the item in that paper would be of interest to Brainerd readers, and it was accordingly copied. Mr. Fields is placed in an embarrassing position and he feels that "fool friends" are as big a nuisance as could be imagined. A joke is relished by anyone who has an ounce of good red blood in their veins, but there are such things as mistaking a joke, and there are those who do not know a joke from a three horse team and we think this friend of Mr. Fields is one of the latter kind. Mr. Fields is not married, he says so, and he ought to know.

TURCOTTE BROS.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and
Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleanses out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and setting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

In the Gun Turret.
Manipulating a big gun in the turret of a battleship is just about as impersonal a form of fighting as exists. In trench warfare you can hear the shell coming in time to step out of its path (if you are lucky), but in turret fighting you are shut up tightly in a steel compartment, with no chance of escape. If any enemy projectile strikes the turret you are killed. If the ship sinks your steel trap drowns you. And if you finally defeat the enemy by working a brass lever back and forward for five hours you wonder how many of your shots were hits and how many were mere waterpots.—Brooklyn Eagle.

ROOSEVELT CHIEF CHICAGO FIGURE

Speculation and Guesses Revolve Around One Man.

BIG FIGHT FOR HARMONY.

Republicans Were So Anxious For "Get Together" Arrangement That They Were Willing to Battle For It—Bosses Did Not Run Republican Convention.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 14.—[Special.]—Theodore Roosevelt has been the chief figure in every Republican convention since 1900, when he was nominated for vice president. William J. Bryan began his career as the chief figure in Democratic national conventions four years before Roosevelt, but Roosevelt had been a delegate and an active man in a convention as far back as 1884, when he was one of the leaders against Blaine.

But the swirl of the convention eddies, the talk in the conferences and corridors, the speculation and guesses, the outcome and future results, all were around this remarkable man. More hinged on Roosevelt than on any other person or all other persons, for that matter.

Fight For Harmony.

The Republicans were so determined to have harmony that they were ready to fight for it—in fact, much of the time of the leaders was devoted to securing harmonious action. It was a contrast to the gathering four years ago, when there was an intense bitterness between two rival factions. Then the Taft men and the Roosevelt men would do anything they could to cut each other's throats. This time the leaders smoothed down the feathers of those who showed irritation, and there were unmistakable signs of an effort to get together.

That statement does not apply to some of the Roosevelt supporters who were so pronounced in favor of the colonel that they were ready to show their teeth when any one spoke for another candidate.

When the Bosses Don't Know.

It is always assumed that the bosses run national conventions. When we strike a convention where the bosses don't know what is going to be done there are frantic appeals made to them for information. There seems to be a disposition to credit these men with powers of determination when in fact they have no control and when they do not know what will happen. The impression has been created that a few men control every convention and direct every movement. That was not the case in the convention of 1916.

Primaries Not Tried Out?

There is some question whether the primary system has been tried out or if so whether it has proved satisfactory. Men hark back to the time when by an overwhelming vote the primaries decided in favor of Champ Clark, and yet he was not nominated. So far as it could be seen the primaries were in favor of Justice Hughes during the preliminary canvass, yet the greatest advocates of the primary system—the Progressives—did their best to nominate another man.

A Convention Essential.

To secure a nomination in a national convention the most essential thing is delegates. The man who hasn't got the delegates and does not know just where he can get them is not successful. There are various methods of getting delegates. The Hanna method was to go out and get them. Other men have waited and allowed delegates to come to them, but they generally had attractions which brought the delegates in line when needed.

The Powerful Committee.

National committees are powerful organizations. In the first place, national committees determine what delegates are entitled to sit in the convention, and where there are many contests this is most important, as the settlement of contests often determines the results of the convention. It seldom happens that a credentials committee will change the action of the national committee.

The national committee also has the power of allotment of seats in the convention, which is important in the matter of giving certain people places. And the national committee is the guiding power for four years after each national election.

Interesting Campaign Ahead.

The coming campaign promises to be interesting. Some of the politicians in Washington think it will be equal to any since the McKinley-Bryan campaign of twenty years ago.

Convention Anecdote.

One of the New England delegates on waking one morning and opening the door of his room found his shoes missing from the threshold where he had placed them for the hotel boot-black to shine. As he wandered disconsolately up and down the corridor searching for his footwear he met a native, who gave him the latest tidings of his shoes, saying he had seen them scattered "several rods" down the corridor several hours before. Incidentally if you ask a Chicagoan how far away your destination is he will just naturally inform you that it is "about so many rods farther on."

Washington, June 14.—A constitutional amendment to disqualify federal judges from holding any elective offices for at least two years after leaving the bench was introduced by Senator Thomas, Democrat of Colorado. Two weeks ago he made a speech in the senate deprecating the efforts to nominate Justice Hughes as a presidential candidate.

SYNOPSIS

MARY PAGE, an actress, is accused of the murder of James Pollock, and is defended by her lover Philip Langdon. Pollock has been pursuing Mary for many months endeavoring to win her love and her hand in marriage, but his attentions have been very unwelcome to her.

Knowing her stage aspirations, he has, unknown to her, financed her starting tour under the management of Daniels.

On the night of the murder, Mary leaves the banquet hall in the Gray Room alone expecting to meet Langdon. She has been lured there by Pollock, who has been drinking.

A few moments later a shot is heard and Langdon and others, upon entering the Gray Room find James Pollock shot through the heart and Mary Page lying in a faint beside him with Pollock's revolver not six inches from the ends of her fingers.

At Mary's trial she admits she had the revolver. Pollock had invaded her dressing room at the theatre, Langdon had come to her rescue, the revolver had been knocked from Pollock's hand and Mary had seized and retained it. She had put it in her hand bag the night of the murder intending giving it to Langdon.

Her maid testifies that Mary threatened Pollock with it previously, and Mary's leading man implicates Langdon.

How Mary disappeared from the scene of the crime is a mystery. Brandon tells of a strange hand print he saw on Mary's shoulder.

Further evidence shows that horror of drink produces temporary insanity in Mary.

The defense is "repressed psychosis." Witnesses described Mary's flight from her intoxicated father and her father's suicide.

Nurse Walton describes the kidnapping of Mary by Pollock, and Amy Barton tells of Mary's struggles to become an actress, of Pollock's pursuit of her and of another occasion when the smell of liquor drove Mary insane.

There is evidence that Daniels, Mary's manager, threatened Pollock. Mary faints on the stand and again goes insane when a policeman offers her whisky.

Daniels testifies that Pollock threatened to kill Mary and Langdon and actually attempted to kill Langdon.

Two witnesses describe Mary's flight to the street from the hotel and her abduction by men from a gambling place near by. Further evidence seems to incriminate Daniels.

Margie Hale, inmate of a gambling den, testifies that she was at the hotel and heard two men quarreling in the Gray Room a short time before the murder. Her evidence seems to increase suspicion against Daniels.

Daniels privately informs Langdon that Mary Page did not kill Pollock and that if Mary is in danger of going to the electric chair he will tell all he knows of the case.

"Now," he said, "what about the guns?"

"Well, it's this way, sir," said James, twirling his hat in his nervous fingers. "I used to be in Mr. Pollock's room a lot, sir, and I knew all his guns. He had a lot of them—they were a sort of fad of his. There was two pairs of re-

NEW CLEWS

"If you please, Mr. Langdon, may I speak to you a moment, sir?"

The deferential voice halted Philip as he was on his way from court to Mary's cell, and he swung about with the frown of one whose days are made up of unpleasant interruptions by strangers.

Langdon had been at the office most of the night looking up certain points of law and his temper was none too good.

"Well?" he snapped, and the pallid faced man with the stooped shoulders winced and drew back a little.

"I'm sorry, sir, but I thought I ought to tell you, sir. It's—its' about the guns."

"The guns?" The frown faded from Langdon's face, and he looked down at the man with a sudden interest. "Who are you?"

"James Watson, sir. I am a waiter at the Criterion Club where Mr. Pollock resided. I also acted as his confidential man during my off hours, sir."

"I could see that she hated him," volvers—duellin' pistols, he called 'em—but that there gun in court ain't one of those.

"It was his own special one. He had the barrel sawed off extra short so it would fit easy in his pocket. He showed it to me, and said that if anybody ever did for him, they'd have to move quicker than he did. And then, sir, it was his own gun that killed him. Life's a queer thing, ain't it?"

Langdon nodded vaguely, too disappointed at the failure of this new hope to pay much attention to what the man was saying.

"I suppose," he said drily, "you won't mind telling that fact in court, will you?"

He looked sharply at the waiter.

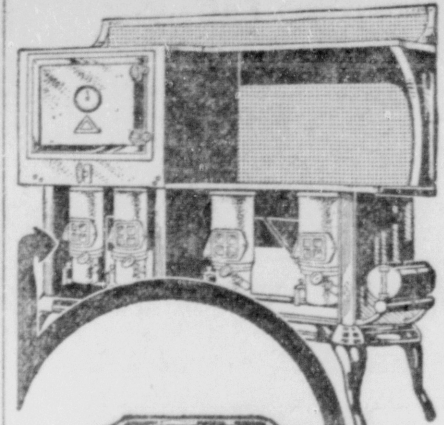

Langdon Had Been at the Office Most of the Night.

You see, I am an extra, not a regular waiter in the dining-room."

Langdon drew a deep breath and laid his hand on the other's stooped and servile shoulder.

"This is not the place to talk," he said quietly. "You'd better come down to my office with me. I have a few minutes yet before the recess is over."

The man bowed, and Langdon, turning, led the way into the private room beyond the court-room, and waving the waiter to a chair, sat down himself on the edge of the table.
